Steven Hunter Named Codes Compliance Supervisor

City Manager Jean-Ann McGrane has announced that Steven Hunter has been appointed Codes Compliance Supervisor for the City of Newburgh. Hunter, an experienced Code Enforcement Officer certified by the State of New York, was assigned interim supervisory duties over the day-to-day operations of the City Office of Code Enforcement in September.

Prior to joining the City of Newburgh Codes Compliance Department in 2005, Steve worked in technical and staff management positions for ATT/International Business Machines and New York Telephone in New York and Newburgh for more than 30 years.

"We are fortunate to have someone with Steve's background and skills in this very challenging position," said City Manager Jean-Ann McGrane. "In his capacity as Acting Codes Compliance Supervisor, Steve provided stable leadership and initiated several operational changes that should make the department even more efficient and effective. As we move forward with our integrated strategy to address quality of life issues in the City, I am confident that Steve will be a valuable asset to our efforts."
