Summer in the City Brochures Available

Imagine summer without children saying “there’s nothing to do.” The City of Newburgh and community partners are once again offering solutions to keeping the kids busy over the warm days ahead. “Summer in the City: A Guide to Summer Activities for Children and Youth in the City of Newburgh,” published in partnership with the Orange County Youth Bureau, is now available on line at www.cityofnewburgh-ny.gov and various locations around the City.

You can pick up the brochure at the City Activity Center, 401 Washington Street, City Hall, 83 Broadway, (City Clerk’s office), the Board of Education office, 124 Grand Street, Department of Health, Broadway, Family Health Center on Washington Terrace and Lake Street, Mullins Apartments and at various community organizations.

From sports camps to outdoor camps, and summer reading to arts & culture, “Summer in the City” offers a variety of free and fee-based summer programs, events, and activities available to children and youth in the City of Newburgh.
