False Alarm Prevention: The Cost and Solution

Security systems are great ways to keep your home and your family safe, but cost save can be easily averted in a system that is triggered without your consent.

FALSE ALARM VOLUME

- Residential Properties: 95%
- Commercial Properties: 5%
- The Cost of False Alarms

In 2002, false alarms cost over $1,800,000,000 nationwide.

In Seattle, warnings issues on false alarms increased the additional cost per average burglary to $1,644.

These costs can be reused if you can select the common response for false alarms and learn how to prevent false alarms from happening.

TOP 6 CAUSES OF FALSE ALARMS

False alarms happen for a variety of reasons, but most can be avoided and reduced. In fact, the False Alarm Prevention Association (FAPA) reports that even 80% of false alarms are caused by user errors that could easily be avoided.

1. Abnormal Rising
2. Property Превью
3. Arson
4. Falling in to Press Button
5. Objects Moving Near Motion Sensors
6. Other

EASY WAYS TO PREVENT FALSE ALARMS

Many cases are starting to issue these to homeowners who have continued alarm deactivations. In average, these false alarms can save homeowners $1,800. Think nothing missing from home will prevent useful false alarms for everyone and keep false alarms for real emergencies.

Here are the easy ways you can prevent false alarms in your home:

1. Panic Sensors in Proper Places
2. Property Trigger Alarm System
3. Arson
4. Falling in to Press Button
5. Objects Moving Near Motion Sensors
6. Pet Friendly Sensors

WHAT TO DO WHEN ACCIDENTS HAPPEN

If you detect an alarm and it’s your alarm, don’t call 911. There are plenty things you can do to prevent local authorities from showing up to false alarm at your home.

HELP OTHERS PREVENT FALSE ALARMS

Share this information guide for preventing false alarms to others and spread the word about false alarms.